

JOSH MORGAN
FCM NOMINATION PLATFORM 2018

As a City Councillor in the City of London, I understand the challenges that mid-sized urban municipalities face and have a personal understanding of the unique aspects and issues of rural Ontario. Prior to coming to London, I lived most of my life in rural Southwestern Ontario, near the small town of Camlachie. Given these experiences, I have a very positive working relationship with my Southwestern Ontario colleagues and am well suited to provide meaningful representation on the Ontario Caucus from both urban and rural perspectives.

Through my work as a councillor, I have developed a great working relationship with MPs of every party. Last year I pressed for taking a more active role in NAFTA discussions, an issue with great impact on all of southwestern Ontario, and received supportive comments and letters from all of my London MP colleagues.

I value the open, honest and effective relationships that we have been able to establish and this approach will be invaluable to my FCM contributions. I seek your support to obtain a position on the FCM Board of Directors. With my experience and knowledge, I will contribute meaningfully to the national conversation on the importance of our local communities.

FCM represents the interests of Canadian municipalities, large and small, urban and rural, northern and remote - and it brings us together, as one body and one voice – in dealing with the Federal Government and other stakeholders. As a Board Member, I will listen attentively to my colleagues and strive to represent them well.

I greatly value FCM's work in helping our communities become more environmentally, socially and economically sustainable, and I am keenly interested in supporting FCM efforts around 2019 election readiness and stand prepared to ensure we can build on past success.

I am ready and willing to dedicate my time to the projects that the Ontario Caucus and FCM prioritize and, with your support, look forward to getting to work.
